

NEGRO MURDERER NOT APPREHENDED

Posse of Officers and Citizens Search All Night for Black.

MOB IS WAITING VENGEANCE

Men Declare They Will Enter Every Negro House in City.

Special to The World. OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 2.—Posse of officers and citizens searched all night for the slayer of J. W. Walton, street car conductor who was shot and almost instantly killed by an unknown negro on his car at the intersection of Fourth street and Phillips avenue at 11:30 p. m. yesterday morning, without getting the slightest trace of the fugitive. Officers of both are arriving and departing from the city hall every hour, and it is believed that the negro will be apprehended before night falls.

A few of the officers believe that the negro succeeded in boarding the freight train soon passing while the fugitive was being closely pursued immediately after the killing of the conductor, but the majority of the men searching for the murderer insist that he is still in the city, and that he was seen by some of the posse after the freight train had passed and that he is being sought in the home of some friend or relative.

Those who hope to apprehend the negro before the home of every negro in the city will be searched upon. It is more than probable that this extreme measure will be carried out. Word has gone out over the city that $500 will be paid for the body of the negro, dead or alive.

A large crowd of men patiently awaited developments at the city jail all night. This afternoon the crowd was still waiting, and it is known that many of the watchers of yesterday evening and last night are out in the hunt for the slayer of the conductor. Mayor Walton has personally added $100 to the reward offered by the street railway company.

The body of the murdered conductor was shipped to Annet, Texas, county at 8 o'clock this morning, for funeral services and burial at that place.

FIRE PREVENTION IS SET FOR OCTOBER 9

Anniversary of the Chicago Fire Selected by Governor for a Cleanup Day for Oklahoma.

Special to The World. OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 2.—The anniversary of the great Chicago fire is through a resolution by Governor J. B. A. Thompson, designated the anniversary of the Chicago fire as a day to be dedicated to the prevention of fire, waste and accident. We are taking a pause in our lives and turn our eyes to the reflection on the lives and waste misapplied by preventable fire and the human toll that is taken daily by avoidable accident. The imperative necessity of conserving our resources during the war, in order that we might destroy the enemies of our country, early aroused our national and state governments to the importance and necessity of eliminating preventable fire waste and accident and great campaigns were conducted all over the country in this end. The results were immediate and impressive. The fire accident in this country has been greatly reduced by the exercise of foresight and common sense.

The safety of our people and the progress of the war is directly involved in this question. To prevent injury and death due to avoidable accidents is a commendable duty. The people of this state and those of the world are urged to conserve our material resources as a problem pressing for attention. The first of fire and accident insurance, an enormous task, is measured in the terms of waste and the certain way to reduce this waste is to reduce the loss. That waste may be reduced more than one-half by the exercise of ordinary care and prevention on the part of all the people is everywhere conceded.

Therefore, I hereby designate Thursday, the ninth day of October, as fire and accident prevention day and I earnestly urge every citizen by our people in every community in the state and I most urgently recommend:

That the heads of families and the good women of the state make a careful inspection of their homes for fire dangers of every kind. Look well to your heating apparatus. See that your chimneys are safe and that your stoves are sound and well installed. It is a great day to clean up and dispose of all waste and rubbish of every kind.

Now that prohibition has spread its mantle over the entire country, maybe the first robbery will not seem so early next spring.

Therefore, I hereby designate Thursday, the ninth day of October, as fire and accident prevention day and I earnestly urge every citizen by our people in every community in the state and I most urgently recommend:

The Process of Elimination and the Inevitable Result

J. Goldberg & Sons, manufacturers of structural steel, 7500 Independence Avenue, Kansas City, typifies the average truck fleet owner.

When tires fail to stand up, the average fleet owner begins to experiment.

Make after make had its day on Mr. Goldberg's trucks—all went over the same roads—all met the same conditions—all bore those gigantic loads of steel.

And of them all, Goodrich De Luxe Truck Tires outgamed, outlasted and outclassed them all by a wide margin.

It is so everywhere—De Luxe must outwear others because it has a higher, thicker and more durable tread to begin with.

Profit by Mr. Goldberg's experiments—buy the BEST, identified by the brand, Goodrich De Luxe Truck Tires.
